Even though their job descriptions were different, their loyalty to the New York Mets was the same. Tug McGraw was of course the most visible as he pitched for the Mets for nine years and helped lead his club to the World Championship in 1969 and a National League pennant in 1973. For 17 years Jean Coen served as an Executive Assistant to three General Managers; Frank Cashen, Joe McLivaine and Al Harazin. Kathy Cannon worked for the organization for 24 years in many areas including the minor league department and receptionist. All three passed away this past year and they will be missed greatly. The 2004 Mets Media Guide is dedicated to their memories.

REMEMBERING TUG MCGRAW

Late in the afternoon on January 5, 2004 the Mets lost of a piece of their history when Frank Edwin (Tug) McGraw Jr. succumbed to brain cancer at the home of his son Tim in Nashville, TN. McGraw, the blithe spirit who helped Gil Hodges' team to the World Championship in 1969 and whose "Ya Gotta Believe" slogan rallied the Mets to the 1973 pennant, was only 59 years old.

He was buried at St. Malachi Church in Cochranville, PA last January 10th. Ed Kranepool, Art Shamsky, Ed Charles, Mrs. Joan Hodges and Mrs. Maxcine Agee (Tommie's widow) were among the Mets family members in attendance. Kranepool gave one of the five eulogies.

Here are remembrances from some of the people who knew Tug best.

ED CHARLES: "I never knew anybody with a bigger heart. He was mentally tough and he was a winner, pure and simple. No one ever had a bad word to say about Tug McGraw. He always had this special greeting for me. We could be at a big dinner or in the clubhouse. As soon as he saw me, he would yell out at the top of his lungs 'Never throw a slider to the Glider.' Tug always made you feel like you were the most important person in the world."

BUDDY HARRELSON: "I played with his brother, Hank, in Class A Salinas in 1963 and 1964. I didn't meet Tug until I got to the big leagues. He was the typical lefty. He was fun, loving, popular and good at his job. When things were going bad he had a special ability to make light of the situation and make everyone feel better. Being the typical Irishman that he was, whenever we were getting ready to leave a city he would yell out 'Well this town is out of Jameson's Irish Whiskey, let's hit the next city.' He had a unique ability to get along with everyone on the team. Tug didn't have a clique, he hung out with everyone. When the Mets honored the '73 team last year, I was sitting next to him in the Green Room. I could tell he wasn't himself and that the surgery had taken a lot from him. I reached down and grabbed his hand and held it and he just smiled and tightened his grip. He could tell that we were all there for him."

CLEON JONES: "Tug McGraw thrived on pressure. He always wanted the ball in the crucial situations. I think the turning point in his career came in August of 1965 when he started against and beat Sandy Koufax at Shea. That gave him a world of confidence. Tug was really a throw-back. In this day and age, you have some relief pitchers who might not work more than a batter or two in a game. A lot of times Tug would throw three or four innings to get a save. He was a set up guy and closer all wrapped into one."

RALPH KINER: "My first memorable contact with Tug McGraw was introducing him to the Mets fans on TV on 'Kiner's Korner.' He was just out of the Marine Corps and had joined the Mets for his 'Tour of Duty' in the major leagues. Few, if any, knew Tug, so I thought I'd do something different for his first appearance. I knew Tug was an amateur barber during his military time, so I thought it would create an impression if he gave me a haircut on TV. He was all for the idea and we set it up. Everything went fairly well except for one thing - well maybe two things. Johnny Murphy, the GM of the Mets at that time, saw the show. Now I don't want to be derogatory of John, but the Mets were losing a lot of games then in their infancy - and John was known by the players as 'Grampa.' He called Tug into his office and accused him of not taking MLB seriously and trying to 'show up' the club. He threatened to send him back to the minors if he ever did anything like that again. And, oh yes, it took me two months to recover from that haircut."

JERRY KOOSMAN: "On the days I was scheduled to pitch, Tug would always saddle up to my locker and ask innocently, 'Koos, are you pitching today?' I would say yes, then he would come back with 'Me, too.' I would say, 'Not if I can help it, Tug. I'll keep you in the bullpen, where you belong.'"

ED KRANEPOOL: "Here is the true story behind the 'Ya Gotta Believe' slogan, which was our battle cry on the way to the 1973 pennant. It almost got Tug in deep trouble with M. Donald Grant, who at that time was our Chairman of the Board. In August, we were in last place and not really playing well. Well, Mr. Grant came into the locker room to address us. Mr. Grant hardly ever spoke to us as a group. He was a banker-type who didn't crack many jokes. He gave a speech to us that ownership still believed in us and that we had to believe in ourselves, too. Well, all of a sudden Tug jumps up in the back of the room and starts yelling like a maniac, 'Ya Gotta Believe, Ya Gotta Believe'. Mr. Grant didn't look too happy. He walked out of the room and didn't finish his speech. I was sure he felt Tug was making fun of him. Tug wasn't being malicious, he was just being Tug. I was Tug's roommate and I told him he better catch up with Mr. Grant and tell him he didn't mean any harm. He did and thankfully things worked out great. We won the pennant and 'Ya Gotta Believe' became part of Mets lore."

BOB MURPHY: "Tug McGraw was the Number One personality in Mets history. They say Tug could have a good time in a stalled elevator. He just had a zest for life. I loved interviewing Tug, he was just a fabulous human being."

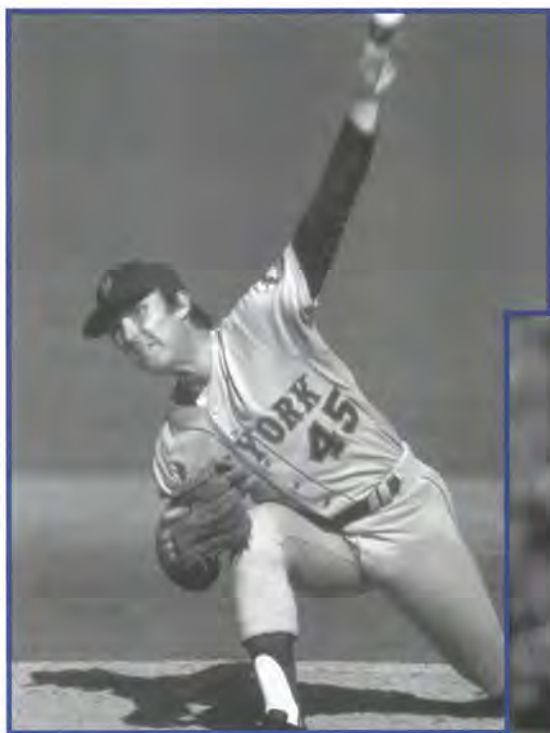

JOE PIGNATANO: "Tug was the king of the practical jokes. I go out to the bullpen one day and there is the guy in a big chef's hat with four big containers of chicken and ribs. He says he is looking for Coach Joe Pignatano because he wanted to have a picnic while the game was going on for the guys in the pen. I told him I was Coach Pignatano and there would be no picnic. Well, Tug paid for the spread and we had a great feast in the locker room after the game."

TOM SEAVER: "Tug and I went back a long way. We were both from the same part of California. In 1964, he pitched Vallejo (CA) Junior College to a victory over my Fresno Junior College Team in a Championship game. We both were Mariners and both of us were proud of that. Tug McGraw always wore his heart on his sleeve. There is no doubt in my mind that because of his whimsical nature people sometimes didn't realize how intense a competitor he was. Tug had the rare capacity to go from clown to top notch relief pitcher in a split second. We had a great rapport. Before a game I would give Tug a heads up and tell him which batters I may need help with if it got to the eighth or ninth inning and I was in trouble. He knew that if he saw Bill Robinson come up with guys on base in the eighth or ninth inning that he would be in the game. Mr. McGraw was something else."

ART SHAMSKY: "Tug was the master of the one-liner. I don't know of anyone who had a quicker wit. One time, a television reporter was trying to ask him a question while he was engaged in another interview. Well, Tug shot back, 'You know Tom, you have a face made for radio.' He was never at a loss for words."

RUSTY STAUB: "Here are some of my random thoughts about Tug. His contagious smile could light up any room...His exuberant exclamation and slapping his right leg with his glove after another save...An occasional Jameson's with his friends... Talking baseball in the bar and telling no telling what on the field...A man of many ups and downs...Casey at the Bat... Auctioning for Charity Events... Enthusiasm at its highest level...Caring for his Kids...The life of the party...Facing insurmountable odds...Courage... He went out like a man... I'll miss him... My friend, Tug McGraw."

RON SWOBODA: "Tug let you inside his inner soul. If a fan didn't know him personally, he felt he did. When he was on the field, he displayed that little boy sense of wonder that made the people in the stands feel he was one of them. In 1973, he had a habit of pounding his heart with his glove after he got out of a jam. The average fan could identify with that. The writers covering the team loved him too. He would literally write their stories in just a few minutes."

40 YEARS OF HISTORY AT SHEA STADIUM

On a cold and blustery day on October 28, 1961, shovels broke ground in Queens for the first stadium to be built in New York City since 1923. The steel and concrete structure that grew in Flushing was originally going to be named "Flushing Meadows Stadium" but in the fall of 1962, civic leader Bernard Gimbel spearheaded a campaign to rename the facility Shea Stadium in honor of the man (popular attorney William A. Shea) who was the driving force in bringing a National League team back to the Big Apple. The architectural firm of Praeger-Kavanagh-Waterbury designed the stadium to be the second all-purpose facility in the country capable of hosting baseball and football games, seating 55,300 for baseball and over 60,000 for New York Jets games. D.C. Stadium in Washington, opened in 1962, was the first all-purpose facility built just a year earlier.

In June of 1962, steel grids began crawling skyward. Six months later the shell of Shea was completed and by July of 1963 pre-cast concrete units covered the steel framework. Two bitterly cold winters in 1962 and 1963 and more than 17 different labor strikes forced Shea to open a year later than planned. The 45-acre plot where the young Mets could finally feel at home was the same land the city offered to Dodgers President Walter O'Malley in the mid 1950's before he bolted for the comforts of Los Angeles. (Folklore stories have long rumored that when city officials scouted out stadium sites, they went during the winter, when flight paths into LaGuardia are different, so they never anticipated the amount of aircraft noise during the summer).

On April 16, 1964, the day before Shea Stadium officially opened, Bill Shea christened the Mets' new home with two symbolic bottles of water: one from the Gowanus Canal, near Ebbets Field, the former home of the Brooklyn Dodgers and one from the Harlem River, near the Polo Grounds, where the New York Giants had played and later the Mets during their first two years. The next morning, April 17th, construction workers were painting outfield signs and fresh sod was being laid in the outfield as the teams took batting practice. The Mets lost, 4-3, to Pittsburgh that afternoon. The New York Times trumpeted the new stadium with the headline "50,312 attend opener at Shea Stadium; Lack of parking causes backups."

The structure which the Amazin's called home contained 21 escalators, 54 public rest rooms, four public restaurants and an oversized scoreboard. The scoreboard - one of the largest in the majors - was 86 feet high, 175 feet wide, and weighed over 60 tons. The majestic giant board provided fans with out of town scores, scoring information, color slides and led the crowd in sing-alongs. The final bill for Shea was $24.5 million with the Mets chipping in an additional $6.5 million for their own office space, clubhouses, scoreboard, restaurants and press room.

Casey Stengel was particularly impressed. "With these escalators you won't get a heart attack going to your seats," said Stengel. "Anybody can come out and see us, women, men and children, because we got 50 bathrooms all over the place."

Despite being built at a time when stadiums were popping up all over the country, Shea was unique. John Waterbury was responsible for the architecture of Shea and developed its circular shape, which included two rotating stands each consisting of 5,000 seats for perfect vision lines for baseball or football. Shea Stadium was the first major league stadium in America to utilize two moveable stands. (DC Stadium had one moveable stand section). The stands moved to convert the field from baseball to football by two motor-operated sections that moved on underground tracks. For baseball seating, the seats are behind first and home and third base and home; for football seating, the leftfield stands move clockwise to the centerfield and the rightfield stands move counterclockwise to centerfield that created seats parallel to the sidelines.

Shea also was the first stadium to feature a "light ring." The illumination comes from banks of lights built into the top of the facility rather than from light towers.

While there has never been a domed baseball or football stadium in the metro area, Shea was originally designed to be covered and to expand to seat 80,000 fans. However, due to cost overruns that idea never became a reality.

Forty years later, as Shea embarks on a year-long anniversary celebration, the ballpark has become the fifth oldest in the majors.

Shea changes through the years...

- 1967 Clear plexiglass replaced parts of the outfield wall in right and leftfield so fans could see who was warming up in the bullpens.
- 1973 Shea became the first ballpark to feature distance markers behind the outfield walls to better judge long home runs (they were removed in 1979).
- 1978 The outfield fences were extended foul line to foul line, cutting the distance in the corners from 341 feet to 338 feet, on the advice of then manager Joe Torre. Prior to his suggestion, the corners had a brick wall with an orange line. If the ball hit above the line it was a home run; a ball hit under the line was in play. Arguments were aplenty in close calls as to where balls hit. The new fence solved the problem.
- 1979-1980 A matrix scoreboard was built in left-centerfield to display statistics. In addition, the original wooden seats were removed and plastic ones were installed.
- 1980 The orange and blue steel panels were removed from the exterior of the stadium and large blue wind shield panels were installed. A picnic area and leftfield bleachers were also added during this time period.
- 1981 The Big Apple Top Hat was built behind the centerfield wall (every Mets home run at Shea is topped off with the Big Apple lighting up and rising out of the black Top Hat). The company that produced the Apple was located in Edgewood, NJ and also made floats that appeared in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.
- 1982 The giant DiamondVision video display screen debuted in left-center field. The screen - 35 feet, 8 inches wide by 26 feet, 3 inches high - shows replays, special in-game features, statistics and more.
- 1985-1987 Major stadium renovations during this time included the addition of 50 suites on Shea's press level. The entire outside of the stadium was painted "Mets blue" and neon outlines of baseball players were placed on each of the six panels.
- 1988 A new scoreboard is put in place. White Way Sign Company built the new board that fit in into the shell of the old one. Also, prior to the 1988 season, the wooden outfield wall is replaced with a padded fence. Auxiliary scoreboards located along the façade of the Loge level down the right and leftfield lines were moved and tri-vision signage was added.
- 1992 Huge dioramas are hung inside Shea featuring color action shots of memorable players and moments in Mets history.
- 1999 Seats were added behind home plate.
- 2000 Seats were added along the right and leftfield baselines.
- 2003 Collages highlighting the 1969 and 1986 world championships were painted on the side of the right and leftfield façades. Also the ring around the stadium below press row features highlights throughout Mets history.

Baseball at Shea...

In its first year, Shea hosted Major League Baseball's All-Star Game. On July 7, 1964, the National League rallied for four runs in the bottom of the ninth inning to defeat the American League, 7-4, in the Mid-Summer Classic. Willie Mays led off with a walk and came around to score on Orlando Cepeda's RBI. After Johnny Edwards walked, Johnny Callison belted a home run over the right-field wall off Dick Radatz to end the game. That contest marked the only time the All-Star Game has taken place in Shea.

Monumental moments in Mets history have taken place at Shea. The Amazin's clinched National League East titles at home in 1969, 1986 and 1988 and captured the Wild Card at home in 2000.

The Mets qualified for their first World Series on October 6, 1969 when they beat Atlanta, 7-4, in Game Three of the National League Championship Series. Ten days later on October 16th, the Mets celebrated their first World Championship with a 5-3 win in Game Five. Leftfielder Cleon Jones caught the final out off the bat of future Mets manager Davey Johnson as Shea erupted in delight.

New York also conjured up Shea's magic in the deciding Game Five of 1973 NLCS vs. Cincinnati's Big Red Machine. The Mets rolled to a 7-2 victory over the Reds to advance to their second World Series, which the Mets lost in seven games.

The Mets played one of the most memorable games in World Series history on October 25, 1986. Down by two runs, with two outs and nobody on base in the bottom of the 10th inning, trailing three games to two in the series, the Mets rallied to beat the Boston Red Sox, 6-5. Official records show that 55,078 fans were at Shea that night, but many more claim to have been in the ballpark. Two days later, after a rainout, the Mets beat the Red Sox, 8-5, to win their second World Series title.

President Bill Clinton became the first sitting President to attend a baseball game at Shea on April 15, 1997. President Clinton along with Major League Baseball Commissioner Bud Selig and Jackie Robinson's widow, Rachel, announced the retirement of Jackie Robinson's uniform number 42 throughout major league baseball.

The club's fourth trip to the Fall Classic came after a 7-0 Game Five shutout vs. St. Louis on October 16, 2000 at Shea. The Mets met the Yankees that October in the city's first Subway Series since 1956.

Shea Stadium has even served as the home field for the Mets' cross-town rivals, the New York Yankees. The Yankees moved to Shea for the 1974 and 1975 seasons while Yankee Stadium underwent extensive renovations.

Again in the 1998 season, the Yankees were forced to play at Shea due to a fallen piece of concrete at Yankee Stadium. On Wednesday April 15th, the Yankees played Anaheim in a 12:05 p.m. day game and the Mets hosted the Cubs for their regularly scheduled 7:40 p.m. start, creating a very unusual Shea doubleheader.

The Jets tenure at Shea...

Shea's other tenant christened the facility in 1964. The New York Jets, who also had moved in from the Polo Grounds, hosted the Denver Broncos on September 12th of that year. The Jets rolled to a 30-6 victory that Saturday night before 45,665 fans in the first AFL game at Shea. The Jets' Gene Heeter scored the first touchdown at Shea on a 16-yard pass from Dick Wood. From 1964-1983, Gang Green called Shea Stadium home before they moved to Giants Stadium in New Jersey. New York went 69-69-3 all-time at Shea.

During Weeb Ewbank's tenure as the Jets Head Coach, he would often watch a couple of innings of the Mets game at the end of the day before heading home.

The Jets set an AFL attendance record in 1967 when 437,036 fans packed in to watch seven games that season at Shea. And the following year they gave their fans something to really cheer about. On December 29, 1968 the Jets defeated the Oakland Raiders, 27-23, in the American Football League Championship in front of 62,627 fans to advance to Super Bowl III. Joe Namath tossed three touchdowns, including two to Don Maynard in that game.

"I remember the cold wind, great fans and a warm tremendous win against the Raiders on a bleak December day in 1968," recalled Namath. Joe would later garner MVP honors as he led the Jets to a 16-7 win over the Baltimore Colts in Super Bowl III. Recently, Namath shared his thoughts on the facility that will turn 40 this year.

"Shea Stadium...the strong winds...the brutal cold...the frozen turf...one of the toughest places to play in the NFL, but a great home field advantage for us," noted Namath.

Howard Cosell and ABC television's Monday Night Football made its first ever appearance at Shea on October 15, 1979 as the Jets beat Minnesota, 14-7. The only other MNF game at Shea was a 17-14 victory over the Miami Dolphins on October 27, 1980.

Despite tremendous fan support and playing in the heart of the city, the Jets weren't always happy at Shea. The Jets were forced to practice in Flushing Meadow Park until the baseball season was over and in 1973, the Jets played their first six games on the road because the Mets made it to the World Series and were still using Shea for post-season games. Ten years later, on October 6, 1983, the Jets announced their plans to move to the Meadowlands for the 1984 season. Gang Green lost, 34-7, to Pittsburgh on December 10, 1983 in the last NFL game ever played at Shea.

College gridders play at Shea...

Four college football games have been played at Shea (two in 1965 and one each in 1974 and 1975). The first college contest paired two of the most storied teams in college football: Army and Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish, ranked seventh nationally, defeated the Cadets, 17-0, before 61,000 on October 9, 1965.

"I recall that (future) President Nixon attended the game and sat in a box near my family," remembered Notre Dame Head Coach Ara Parseghian. "It was a brand new stadium, but frankly it was kind of a dull game."

Later that month, buoyed by a backfield of Floyd Little, Larry Csonka and current Giants Head Coach Tom Coughlin, the 19th ranked Syracuse University football team crushed Pittsburgh, 51-13, on October 30th. Little's spectacular four touchdown day was capped by a 95-yard TD run.

Legendary college football coach Eddie Robinson traveled to play at Shea twice. On November 9, 1974, Grambling played North Carolina A & T. The following year, the Tigers and their future NFL quarterback Doug Williams defeated Norfolk State on November 15, 1975.

"Coach Robinson always told us that everything happens in New York," recalled Williams, who would later earn Super Bowl XXII MVP honors helping the Washington Redskins to a 42-10 victory over Denver. "It was an honor to play at Shea especially for me, since I followed the 1969 Mets because Tommie Agee was a Grambling graduate. I also remember getting sacked on the infield dirt by Turkey Jones."

Shea in 1975...

In 1975, Shea was the center of the New York sports universe. The Mets, Yankees, Jets and Giants all called Shea home that season, marking the first and only time in professional sports history that two baseball teams and two football teams shared the same facility in the same year. The Giants, who like the Yankees, had to find another venue to call home while Yankee Stadium underwent renovations. Only the baseball teams were able to post winning records that season: the Mets went 82-80 (42-39 at Shea) while the Yankees were 83-75 (43-35 at Shea). The Jets were 3-11 (1-6 at home) and the Giants were 5-9 (2-5 in their only season at Shea) before they moved into their new stadium in the Meadowlands the following year.

"Without question, Shea was the most challenging place to kick a football," noted Giants punter Dave Jennings. "The wind was always in your face no matter which way you turned. The people, the fans, the grounds crew were great, but I was so happy that we only played there for one year because of the conditions."

Other sporting events at Shea...

Shea has seen a variety of other sporting events as well. Brazil played England in a soccer match on June 17, 1965 as part of the International Soccer League. The soccer field at Shea was positioned from centerfield to homeplate. Argentina met Italy on June 22, 1976 and the immortal Pele graced Shea's grass with his flair and magic feet when the New York Cosmos played Washington on August 17, 1976 in a North American Soccer League playoff game. Pele netted the first goal of the game to help lead the Cosmos to a 2-0 triumph as 22,698 rejoiced. Recently, Columbia has hosted Honduras (in 1996), El Salvador (in 1997) and Slovakia (in 2003) in soccer matches at Shea.

Championship boxing matches have also taken place at Shea with the ring located in the middle of the infield. On May 21, 1966, former Puerto Rican Silver Medalist Jose "Chegui" Torres defeated Wayne Thornton in 15 rounds to defend his Light Heavyweight Championship. A little over a year later, on August 16, 1967, boxing Hall of Famer Carlos Ortiz defended his title against Ismael Laguna in a 15-round victory in a Light Heavyweight Championship. The last title fight to take place at Shea occurred on September 29, 1967, when Emile Griffith won a 15-round decision over Nino Benvenuti, considered the greatest boxer ever from Italy, to capture the World Middleweight Championship.

Shea has even hosted three wrestling cards (1972, 1976 and 1980). Popular wrestling icons Pedro Morales, Bruno Sammartino, Andre the Giant, Hulk Hogan and former Jet Lineman "Wahoo" McDaniel all grappled in Flushing.

Ironically enough, during the hottest week of the year in 1967, Shea welcomed the Ice Capades in early June. Sections of ice were put down in the infield and held up despite the heat and humidity.

Pope John Paul II graces Shea...

In the second ever papal visit to the United States, Pope John Paul II made a stop at Shea on October 3, 1979 as part of his seven-day tour. More than 60,000 fans flocked to Shea to see His Holiness. It rained hard all morning before the skies cleared almost on cue as the Pope led a prayer service.

Other religious activities at Shea include Billy Graham leading services in June, 1970, and gatherings of Jehovah's Witnesses in July of 1978 and the Promise Keepers in September of 1996.

The Beatles and other rock-n-roll shows at Shea...

In what has been called one of the most important rock concerts in the history of the music industry, The Beatles played Shea Stadium on August 15, 1965. Paul McCartney, John Lennon, George Harrison and Ringo Starr took a helicopter from Manhattan to the World's Fair site and then hopped in an armored car that brought them into the stadium. The quartet dressed in the umpires room before Ed Sullivan introduced the group.

The Beatles entered from the visitors' dugout at 9:17 p.m., ran onto the stage set up near second base, and sent the Shea crowd into a frenzy by opening with "Twist and Shout." Nearly 50 amplifiers were scattered along the baselines. It was the first major outdoor stadium concert in America and it was an overwhelming success. Over 60,000 screaming teenage Beatles fans jammed Shea to listen to the 30-minute performance.

"The Beatles had played at Carnegie Hall previously and we had turned away thousands of fans," recalled legendary promoter Sid Bernstein. "So we started talking about bringing the band to Madison Square Garden. But then I had an idea. Let's forget about MSG and I suggested Shea Stadium in Queens to The Beatles manager Brian Epstein. He asked 'Do you think we could sell it out?' and I told him 'I'll give you $10 for every unsold seat.' He called me back a day or so later and said we had a deal."

They say history can't repeat itself, but the following August, The Beatles returned to Shea for another engagement. On August 23, 1966, Paul, John, George and Ringo played Shea for a second and final time.

"Years later I was at a Jimmy Cliff concert with John Lennon and during the intermission he leaned over and said 'I saw the top of the mountain when we were at Shea.' I nodded and said 'So did I,'" recalled Bernstein.

The success of The Beatles concerts made Shea an extremely attractive venue to rock-n-roll groups. In August, 1970, Janis Joplin and Jimi Hendrix visited Shea during the Summer Festival for Peace. The following July, Grand Funk Railroad played at Shea. Jethro Tull belted out songs on July 23, 1976. The Who performed two days (October 12-13) in 1982 and Simon & Garfunkel graced Shea on August 6, 1983. The Police took to the stage in August 18, 1983 just before the group was slowly set to go it's separate ways.

"During the performance I thought, 'This is it, you can't do any better than this,'" said Police frontman Sting. "That's the point I decided to stop."

The Rolling Stones performed six times at Shea in October, 1989. Elton John and Eric Clapton combined to put on two shows on August 21-22, 1992. Nearly 14 years later, in October of 2003, rock-and-roll returned to Shea when Bruce Springsteen closed his world tour by playing three dates in Flushing.

The big screen at Shea...

Shea has seen some legendary Hollywood endings, including the 1969 Miracle Mets season and the dramatic final two games of the 1986 World Series. Hollywood took notice and has used Shea Stadium in several box office hits. Perhaps the most famous film was The Odd Couple (1968) starring Walter Matthau as Oscar Madison and Jack Lemmon as Felix Unger. A scene takes place from the press box in which Lemmon calls Matthau, who is a sportswriter, on the phone. During the call, Matthau misses seeing the Mets turn a triple play hit into by Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski. The scene was staged before the Pirates-Mets game on June 27, 1967.

Dave "King Kong" Kingman bashed home runs at Shea from 1975-1977 and again from 1981-1983. King Kong starring Jessica Lange was released in 1976. The giant gorilla appeared to rise from a stadium made to look like Shea, but the movie was not filmed in Flushing.

However, Shea was used as a backdrop in the following films: The Bingo Long Traveling All-Stars & Motor Kings (1976) which highlighted James Earl Jones and Richard Pryor, Woody Allen's Small Time Crooks (2001), Keeping the Faith with Ben Stiller and Ed Norton (2000), Robert DeNiro's Bang the Drum Slowly (1973) and The Wiz (1978) starring Diana Ross also had scenes that included Shea.

Recently, box office hits such as Men in Black (1997) starring Tommy Lee Jones and Will Smith featured a scene at Shea with former Met Bernard Gilkey, and Two Weeks Notice (2002) with Sandra Bullock and Hugh Grant included a scene at Shea with Mike Piazza.

Never forget...

Shea served as a relief center after the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001. Most of the gate areas and parking lots were filled with food, supplies and makeshift lodging for the massive rescue effort. Supplies and food were brought into the city by the truckloads for the city's heroes. Ten days later, on September 21st, the Mets made a star-spangled return against the Atlanta Braves. On one of the proudest nights in Shea Stadium history, 41,275 fans attended the first regular season sporting event in New York after the tragedy.

THE METS LOGO

The circular Mets logo, designed by sports cartoonist Ray Gatto and unveiled on November 16, 1961, has gone virtually unchanged throughout the history of the club. The shape of the insignia, with its orange stitching, represents a baseball, and the bridge in the foreground symbolizes that the Mets, in bringing back the National League to New York, represent all five boroughs. It's not just a skyline in the background, but has special meaning. At the left is a church spire, symbolic of Brooklyn, the borough of churches. The second building from the left is the Williamsburg Savings Bank, the tallest building in Brooklyn. Next is the Woolworth Building. After a general skyline view of midtown comes the Empire State Building. At the far right is the United Nations Building.

AND THE NAME IS... "THE NAME IS METS...JUST PLAIN METS."

The name Mets was judged by club owner Mrs. Joan Payson as the one that best met five basic criteria:

- 1) It met public and press acceptance;
- 2) It was closely related to the team's corporate name (Metropolitan Baseball Club, Inc);
- 3) It was descriptive of the Metropolitan area;
- 4) It had a brevity that delighted copy readers everywhere;
- 5) It had historical background, referring to the Metropolitans of the 19th century American Association.

Other names considered included Rebels, Skyliners, NYBs, Burros (for the five boroughs), Continentals, Avengers... As well as Jets and Islanders, names that would eventually find their way into the New York sports scene.

TOM McKENNA—TRAINER EMERITUS

Tom McKenna begins his 26th season as the Mets' Trainer Emeritus in 2004. Tom served the Mets as head trainer from 1970—when he replaced original Mets trainer Gus Mauch—through the 1980 campaign.

Based in St. Petersburg, FL, Tom assists Mets trainers Scott Lawrenson and Mike Herbst during spring training, and is also on hand during the Florida Instructional League season in the fall. He also serves as an advisor for all trainers throughout the Mets' system, and is the head trainer during Mets Fantasy Camp each winter.

Tom's first baseball job was as a trainer for Jersey City of the International League in 1948. He spent the next 13 seasons with Minneapolis of the American Association before being named trainer of the expansion Washington Senators in 1961. He joined the Mets in 1970.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1970, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award (originally known as "The Commissioner's Award") which recognizes the player who best exemplifies the game of baseball, sportsmanship, community involvement and the individual's contribution to his team. The award, now sponsored by John Hancock Financial Services, recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

In 1972, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was renamed to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash New Years Eve, 1972, delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims in Nicaragua.

Early in the season, each team is asked to submit three candidates to a panel formed by John Hancock Financial Services. The panel will select a nominee from each club. A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, then selects a winner from the list of 30 nominees. John Franco was the Mets 2002 local Roberto Clemente Award winner.

The winner of the Roberto Clemente Award receives a $25,000 donation from John Hancock Financial Services for the local charity of his choice at an on-field ceremony during the World Series. John Hancock also makes a cash contribution to the Roberto Clemente Foundation and to each nominee's local charity.

The Mets have had two recipients of this award, Al Leiter in 2000 and Gary Carter in 1986.

SELF SUPPORT

In the entire 42-year history of the club, only twice has a Mets pitcher belted a grand slam home run. The first one came in the club's second season, on July 15, 1963. Frank Thomas, Joe Hicks and Larry Burright were the runners when Carl Willey belted a drive over the Polo Grounds right field wall off Houston's Ken Johnson. The home run came in the second inning of the Mets' 14-5 win over the Colt 45s, and also represented the first homer ever by a Mets pitcher.

Four years later, on May 20, 1967, Jack Hamilton blasted a bases-loaded homer at Shea off St. Louis' Al Jackson. Tommy Davis, Ken Boyer and Jerry Grote marched home ahead of Hamilton, who connected in the second inning of the Mets 11-9 loss to the Cards.

And it hasn't happened since.

SHEA STADIUM'S LONGEST HOME RUNS

It is generally perceived that Tommie Agee hit the longest home run in the history of Shea Stadium on April 10, 1969. In the second inning, Agee hit a drive into the upper deck in leftfield off the Expos' Larry Jaster, the only fair ball in the stadium's 33-year history to reach the upper deck.

Dave Kingman had several monumental blasts at Shea, including one that cleared the back fence in leftfield (which is 488' feet away from home) and reached the parking lot.

On September 4, 1998, Mike Piazza hit a 485-foot two run blast off Atlanta's Tom Glavine to give the Mets a 2-1 victory.

Mo Vaughn cracked a solo home run off Atlanta's Kevin Grybowski that traveled an estimated 505-feet and hit more than halfway up on the Budweiser advertisement on the centerfield scoreboard on June 26, 2002.

Darryl Strawberry pelted the rightfield scoreboard many times, including a moon shot off the Dodgers' Fernando Valenzuela on May 22, 1987. Straw also hit monster shots off the Reds' Jack Armstrong, July 7, 1988 and off the Astros' Dave Smith, July 19, 1986.

Other big blasts of note are: Leon Durham breaking a car window in the player's parking lot off Mark Bomback in 1980 and Bobby Bonilla hitting a parked bus off Jeff Innis on Opening Day, 1990. Richie Allen also cracked a couple of extremely long home runs at Shea.

LITTLE LEAGUE IN NEW YORK NAMED AFTER AL LEITER

Almost every single player in the major leagues played Little League baseball, but Al Leiter is among the first to have a league named in his honor. Oyster Bay, NY was granted a charter by Little League to pay tribute to Al Leiter by naming the league after him. The newly chartered "Al Leiter Little League of Oyster Bay" kicked off its inaugural season in 2003.

"I could not think of a better player and role model for our young people who played for both the Mets and Yankees," said League President Doug Peterson. "When I approached Mr. Leiter, he was very flattered. He was open and honest in wanting to help. Al was modest when told his name alone would help attract more local children to the program."

"Anything I can do to help more kids play what I feel is the greatest game in the world, I am happy to do," said Leiter.

JASON PHILLIPS RECEIVES HONOR AT TED WILLIAMS MUSUEM

It was a weekend to remeber for Jason Phillips and his wife Kelly. Last February 13th-15th, the Phillips family spent three days at Hernando, FL where he recieved the National League's Rookie of the Year Award from the Ted Williams Museum and Hitters Hall of Fame.

Phillips' Mets uniform will hang at the Hall along with such players as Tony Gwynn, Wade Boggs, Cal Ripken and Barry Bonds. Rocco Baldelli of the Tampa Bay Devil Rays received the American League's Rookie of the Year honors.

"There was plenty of great rookies in both leagues," said Mike Colbaelli, the Marketing Director of the Musuem. "But we are partial to hitters just like Ted was. We did plenty of research on Jason and we liked his on-base percentage and what he accomplished his first season in the majors."

"He is a fine addition to our walls. Incidentally, he is the only Mets hitter we have honored." Jason hit .298 in 119 games with the Mets in 2003. He added 25 doubles, 11 home runs, 68 RBI and 39 walks. He had an on-base percentage of .373 and was ranked among NL rookie leaders in RBI, home runs, multi-hit games, total bases, doubles, walks, extra base hits, runs and on-base percentage.

"It was an amazing experience for me," said Jason. "It's something myself or my family will never forget."

RETIRED NUMBERS

On April 15, 1997 in a special ceremony at Shea Stadium, the chairman of the Major League Executive Council, Allan H. "Bud" Selig announced the retirement of Jackie Robinson's uniform Number 42 throughout major league baseball.

"The day Jackie Robinson stepped on a major league field will forever be remembered as baseball's proudest moment," said Selig standing side-by-side with Jackie's widow Rachel and the President of the United States, Bill Clinton. "Major League Baseball is retiring Number 42 in tribute to his great achievements and for the significant contributions he made to society. Number 42 belongs to Jackie Robinson for the ages."

According to a news release sent out by the Office of the Commissioner that night: "Number 42 will never again be issued by a major league club to any player or other on-field personnel, other than those who are currently wearing it. Those who are may wear them for the remainder of their careers."

Butch Huskey, who wore 42 as a tribute to Robinson, was the last Met to wear the number before Mo Vaughn donned the number in 2002...Besides Vaughn, Mariano Rivera of the Yankees and Jose Lima of the Tigers are the only other current major leaguers who wear uniform number 42.

Tom Seaver is the only Met player to have his number retired. Number 41 was retired in a tribute at Shea Stadium on June 24, 1988.

Gil Hodges number 14 was retired on June 9, 1973 and Casey Stengel's 37 was retired on September 2, 1965.

TWO WINS IN ONE DAY

John Franco earned a save and a win (respectively) in a July 30, 1996 doubleheader vs. the Pirates at Shea and Armando Benitez saved both ends of a doubleheader on August 15, 2000 vs. Colorado. Only three pitchers in Mets history—Craig Anderson in 1962, Willard Hunter in 1964 and Jesse Orosco in 1983—have won both ends of a doubleheader. Anderson did it on May 12, 1962, beating the Braves at the Polo Grounds 3-2 and 8-7 with a combined three innings of shutout relief. Hunter accomplished the feat on August 23, 1964 at Shea when 1.2 innings of no-hit shutout relief earned him 2-1 and 5-4 wins over Chicago. Orosco joined the group on July 31, 1983 at Shea when he held the Pirates scoreless over a total of five relief innings en route to a pair of 12-inning wins; 7-6 and 1-0.

BIG COMEBACKS

Come-from-behind victories have always been a big part of Mets history. Possibly the most dramatic in club history came on June 30, 2000, when New York overcame a 8-1 eighth-inning deficit to overtake the Atlanta Braves, 11-8. In that contest, Mike Piazza's game-winning three-run home run capped off an amazing 10-run eighth inning. The ten runs tied a club record for most runs scored in an inning.

However, the biggest comeback triumph in club annals came on September 2, 1972 when the Mets trailed the Houston Astros, 8-0, after seven innings. Sparked by Ken Boswell's three-run home run, the Mets sent 12 batters to the plate in the eighth, exploding for seven runs and cutting the deficit to 8-7. In the ninth, New York would bat around again, scoring four runs. Cleon Jones' two-run double was the deciding blow as the Mets posted the greatest come-from-behind win in club history with an 11-8 victory.

I-O GAMES

The Mets have an all-time record of 103-98 in games that have ended with 1-0 scores...The Mets post their best record in 1-0 games in 1969, when the club went 9-5...On September 29, 1993 the Mets and Cardinals battled for 16 scoreless innings before Jeff Kent's 17th-inning double plated the game's only run...A long evening, but not a club record...That honor belongs to the 1-0 Mets loss on April 15, 1968 when the Mets and Astros went 23 scoreless innings before Houston pushed across the winning run on an infield error...The Mets were 1-3 in 1-0 games in 2003:

NEW YORK METS BASEBALL
HISTORY

METS HALL OF FAME

JOAN PAYSON: The majority stockholder when the team was formed. Mrs. Payson was the team's biggest fan and she always could be found sitting in her box to the right of the Mets dugout. An heir to the Whitney family, Joan was a minority owner of the New York Giants and voted against their leaving in 1957. Payson was a majority stockholder when the franchise was granted in 1960 and served as the Mets president from 1968-1975. She was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1981.

CASEY STENGEL: "The Ol' Perfessor" was the first manager in club history. Stengel dubbed the Mets the "loveable losers" but his style and personality outweighed the team's performance on the field. The Mets were 175-404 in his three and a half years at the helm, before he fractured his hip on July 24, 1965, forcing his retirement. Casey continued to work for the Mets as a scout, public speaker and vice president before he died of cancer on September 29, 1975 at the age of 85. Stengel's uniform number 37 was retired on September 2, 1965 and is displayed on Shea Stadium's leftfield wall. He was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1966 and later was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1981.

GIL HODGES: Managed the 1969 Miracle Mets to the World Championship in just his second season. Gil was named Manager of the Year by The Sporting News and the National League Manager of the Year by the Associated Press that splendid season. Guided the Mets from 1968-1971 (339-309) before his death from a heart attack on April 2, 1972, saddened and shocked the organization. He is the third-winningest manager in Mets history. He also cracked the club's first home run off Larry Jackson on April 11, 1962 at St. Louis. Hodges' uniform number 14 was retired on June 9, 1973 and is hanging on the leftfield wall. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1982.

GEORGE M. WEISS: The front office architect of the 1969 Mets. Weiss was appointed president of the Mets in 1961, signaling the return of National League baseball to New York. His first bold move was to hire Casey Stengel as the team's first manager and under his direction the Mets established city attendance records. He remained at the helm as the Mets president until 1966. Weiss was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1971 and he was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1982.

WILLIAM A. SHEA: The attorney for whom the stadium is named after was a driving force to bring National League baseball back to New York. Shea spearheaded Mayor Robert Wagner's four-man baseball task force, which helped form the proposed rival Continental League. Major League baseball granted New York a National League expansion franchise in 1960 and the Continental League agreed to disband. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1983.

JOHNNY MURPHY: A native New Yorker and the famed "Fordham Fireman," he was the Mets chief scout in 1961 and helped assemble the 1962 team. He moved into the front office as a Vice President in 1964. "Murph" presided over the Mets as the team's General Manager from 1968-1969, acquiring Donn Clendenon to key the World Championship run. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1983.

LINDSEY NELSON: An original member of the Mets broadcast team, Nelson is fondly remembered for his charm, description of the action on the field, knowledge of the game and outlandish sport jackets. "Hello everybody, I'm Lindsey Nelson" opened every Mets broadcast. Teamed with Bob Murphy and Ralph Kiner, Lindsey covered the Mets from 1962-1978 and was honored by the Baseball Hall of Fame with the Ford C. Frick Award in 1994. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1984.

BOB MURPHY: An original Met, Bob Murphy has been with the team since 1962 before retiring at the end of the 2003 season. Bob finished his career broadcasting more games in New York than any other sports broadcaster in history. He was named the 1994 Ford C. Frick Award Winner, recognizing his broadcast contributions to baseball and also was inducted to the Baseball Hall of Fame. The trio of Lindsey Nelson, Ralph Kiner and Murphy alternated from TV and radio, but in 1982, Bob moved into the radio booth permanently. Fans came to eagerly anticipate the "Happy Recap" at the end of each winning Mets game. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1984.

RALPH KINER: Also an original Met, Ralph Kiner joined the broadcast booth after a 10-year Hall of Fame career with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Chicago Cubs and Cleveland Indians. He was joined by Lindsey Nelson and Bob Murphy alternating from television to radio, before moving to the TV booth in 1982, where he still can be found today. Ralph has earned three Emmy Awards for broadcasting and "Kiner's Korner" is synonymous with Mets baseball. Ralph was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1975 and he was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1984.

BUD HARRELSON: The feisty middle infielder was named to two All-Star teams during his tenure with the Mets (1965-1977). The smooth fielding shortstop didn't commit an error in 10 World Series contests (1969 and 1973) and captured a Gold Glove in 1971. Ranks second in franchise history in games played (1,322), at-bats (4,390) and triples (45), fourth in hits (1,029) and seventh in runs (490). Harrelson would later manage the Mets from 1990-1991, compiling a 145-129 mark. Bud is the only man in Mets history to be in uniform for both of the franchise's World Championships (player in '69 and coach in '86). He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1986.

RUSTY STAUB: "Le Grande Orange" was one of the most beloved Mets. Staub set a then club-record with 105 RBI in 1975 and holds the franchise mark with 24 pinch-hits in a season (1983). Rusty belted three home runs in the 1973 NLCS and hit .423 in the World Series vs. Oakland. He spent nine years in New York (1972-1975, 1981-1985), and ranks second on the club's all-time pinch list (77), ninth in RBI (399) and tenth in games played (942). Rusty maintains his relationship with the club as a good will ambassador. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1986.

METS HALL OF FAME

TOM SEAVER: "The Franchise" sums it up. Seaver captured three Cy Young Awards, won 311 games (198 with New York), earned Rookie of the Year honors in 1967 and won 20 or more games four times with the Mets. A nine-time All-Star with New York, "Tom Terrific" ranks first in franchise history in wins, complete games (171), ERA (2.57), innings pitched (3,045), strikeouts (2,541) and shutouts (44). Pitched with the Mets from 1967-1977 and returned for one final year in 1983. Seaver was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1992, with the highest percentage (98.84%) in Hall of Fame history. Tom's uniform number 41 was retired on July 24, 1988 and is displayed on the leftfield wall. He returned to the organization in 1999 as a television announcer and was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1988.

JERRY KOOSMAN: "Kooz" won 140 games with the Mets in his 12 years from 1967-1978. Jerry won 19 games, including seven shutouts as a rookie in 1968. He captured two games in the 1969 World Series, including the series clincher in Game Five at Shea. The two-time All-Star was discovered by the Mets while he was pitching for the US Army. Koosman ranks second in club history in starts (346), complete-games (108), innings pitched (2,545) and shutouts (26) and is third in wins (140) and strikeouts (1,799). He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1989.

ED KRANEPOOL: "Steady Eddie" was the only man to play in each of the club's first 18 seasons (1962-1979) and holds the club mark in games played (1,853), at-bats (5,436), total bases (2,047), hits (1,418), doubles (225) and pinch-hits (90). Signed out of James Monroe High School in the Bronx, he was named to the 1965 All-Star Team. Kranepool, who was a fixture at first base for the Mets, had a home run in Game Three of the 1969 World Series and delivered a game-breaking two-run single in the deciding Game Five of the 1973 NLCS. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1990.

CLEON JONES: The man who caught the final out of the 1969 World Series will forever be remembered. Cleon batted .340 with 25 doubles, 12 home runs and 75 RBI and started in the All-Star Game in 1969. Cleon established a then-club record 23-game hitting streak in 1970. Jones, who played with New York in 1963 and from 1965-1975, had a .281 lifetime batting average with the Mets. Ranks second on the all-time club list in hits (1,188), third in triples (33), at-bats (4,223) and fourth in runs (563), extra base hits (308) and games played (1,201), and fifth in doubles (182). He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1991.

JERRY GROTE: Jerry Grote was the man behind the mask and the man behind New York's brilliant pitching staffs from 1966-1977...Jerry was named to the NL All-Star Team in 1969 and 1974 and was one of the top defensive catchers in the game. Grote ranks third on the club's all-time list of games played (1,235) and seventh in hits (994). He established a major league record with 20 putouts in Tom Seaver's 19-strikeout performance in 1970. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1992.

TUG MCGRAW: The sparkplug closer for the Mets helped drive the 1973 Mets with the slogan "Ya Gotta Believe." McGraw, a spirited lefthanded reliever was with New York from 1965-1967, 1969-1974. Was 1-0 with a three saves and a 1.66 ERA in the 1969 and 1973 post-seasons. Had a then club-record 27 saves in 1972 and 25 more in 1973. McGraw was the winning pitcher in the 1972 All-Star Game. Tug ranks fourth on the all-time club list in saves (85) and fifth in games pitched (361). He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1993.

MOOKIE WILSON: Mookie was a fan favorite while patrolling centerfield from 1980-1989. Wilson returned home to Shea in 1993, working in the front office, before moving onto the field as the first base coach in 1997. He is the club's all-time leader in stolen bases (281) and triples (62), third in hits (1,112) and runs (592), fifth in total bases (1,586) and sixth in extra base hits (292) and doubles (170). Perhaps the most memorable at-bat in Mets history is Mookie dodging a two-strike wild pitch from Bob Stanley in Game Six of 1986 World Series which allowed the tying run to score before hitting a dribbler that trickled under Bill Buckner's glove, sending Ray Knight home with the winning run. Wilson was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1996.

KEITH HERNANDEZ: "Mex" was not only the co-captain, but the leader of the Mets in the late 1980's, which captured the 1986 World Series and the 1988 National League Eastern Division. Hernandez played in New York from 1983-1989 and ranks sixth on the club's all-time list in RBI (468), third in batting average (.297) and eighth in runs (455) and ninth in hits (939). His slick fielding defense at first base earned him 11 consecutive Gold Gloves. Keith's arrival helped turn around the fortunes of the franchise. Hernandez returned to the organization in 1999, assisting the club in spring training and broadcasting games on TV during the year. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 1997.

GARY CARTER: "The Kid" was the final piece of the puzzle after he was acquired prior to the 1985 season. A three-time All-Star with the Mets, Carter hit two home runs in Game Three of 1986 World Series and started the game-winning rally in the 10th inning of Game Six with a single. The co-captain hit 89 home runs, including his 300th in 1988 and drove in 349 runs in his five years (1985-1989) in New York. His enthusiasm for the game and passion for catching endeared him to the fans. He was inducted into the Mets Hall of Fame in 2001 and Major League Baseball's Hall of Fame in 2003.

TOMMIE AGEE: Agee played with the Mets from 1968-1972, batting .262 in 661 games, with 107 doubles, 14 triples, 82 home runs, 265 RBI and 92 stolen bases. Earned a Gold Glove and set then club-records with 182 hits and 278 total bases in 1970. Tommie became part of World Series lore, when in Game Three of the 1969 World Series vs. Baltimore, he led off the game with a home run off Jim Palmer and made two sensational catches that saved a combined five runs. He is also generally perceived to have hit the longest home run ever at Shea Stadium. In the second inning on April 10, 1969 vs. Montreal, he belted a ball into the upper deck in leftfield off Larry Jaster, the only fair ball in the stadium's 38-year history to reach the third deck.

After that he hit two singles, a double, two more singles, another double, a single, a triple and struck out in the ninth inning against Jeff Parrett on April 25th at St. Louis.

In 1999, John Olerud tied a Mets' club record with nine consecutive hits, from his final at-bat on September 16th at Houston to September 20th vs. Florida. The streak came to an end when he grounded to second in the third inning of the Mets September 22nd contest vs. Montreal.

Olerud tied a National League record with his first inning walk on September 22nd vs. Montreal. John tied a NL record, reaching base 15 straight times dating back to a single in his final at-bat on September 16th at Houston. Barry Bonds reached base 15 straight times from August 31st to September 4th of this season (9-9 with six walks).

THE BIG INNING

The biggest inning in Mets history? The Mets scored 10 runs in the bottom of the eighth inning against the Atlanta Braves on June 30, 2000 to tie the 10-run bombardment that they unleashed against the Cincinnati Reds in the sixth inning at Shea on June 12, 1979.

THE LINESCORE:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	5	0	1	0	6	9	2
New York	2	0	0	0	0	10	0	0	x	12	12	0

Bonham, Sarmiento (6), Tomlin (6), Borbon (8) and Correll; Falcone, Scott (6), Murray (7) and Stearns. W—Murray, 4-5.
L—Sarmiento, 0-2. HRs—Cincinnati, Foster. New York, Flynn.

The inning featured five hits and two Reds' errors as the Mets victimized three Cincinnati pitchers (Bill Bonham, Manny Sarmiento, and Dave Tomlin) during the record assault. Key hits during the inning were Frank Taveras' two-run double, Richie Hebner's two-run single and Doug Flynn's three-run, inside-the-park home run. The Mets went into the inning trailing 5-2 and came out with a 12-5 lead.

THE LINESCORE:

Atlanta	1	0	3	0	0	0	1	3	0	8	11	1
New York	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	10	0	11	12	2

Millwood, Wengert (8), Lichtenberg (8), Mulholland (8) and Lopez. Hampton, Cammack (8), Benitez (9) and Piazza. W—Benitez, 2-3.
L—Mulholland, 6-7. HRs—Atlanta, Jordan. New York, Piazza.

This 10-run outburst featured six hits, four walks and one Braves' error and three Braves pitchers (Don Wengert, Kerry Lichtenberg and Terry Mulholland). Key hits included Edgardo Alfonzo's two-run single, Todd Zeile's RBI single and Mike Piazza's 342-foot home run to put the Mets up for good. The Mets went into the inning trailing 8-1, and came out on top with a 11-8 lead.

In the club's first ever trip to the post-season, the Mets sweep the best-of-five series vs. Atlanta, three games to none.

In Game One, trailing, 5-4, in the top of the eighth, New York rallied for five runs and a 9-5 win. Tom Seaver struggled, allowing five runs in 7.0 innings, but earned the victory.

In Game Two, two-run home runs by Tommie Agee, Ken Boswell and Cleon Jones lifted the Mets to an 11-6 win.

In front of 53,195 fans at Shea, New York advanced to the World Series with a 7-4 victory in Game Three. The lead changed hands three times before Wayne Garrett's two-run home run in the bottom of the fifth put the Mets ahead, 5-4. Nolan Ryan hurled 4.0 shutout innings to pick up the win and complete the sweep. Boswell hit .333 with two home runs and five RBI, while Agee batted .357 with two home runs and four RBI. Hank Aaron cracked a home run in each game and drove in seven runs for the Braves.

The New York Mets entered the 1969 World Series as heavy underdogs against Baltimore. After falling in Game One, the Amazins' rattled off four straight wins to earn their first championship, just eight years after the franchise was born.

In Game One, Baltimore's leadoff batter Don Buford smacked a home run off Tom Seaver. Mike Cuellar and the Orioles went on to a 4-1 triumph.

In Game Two, Jerry Koosman tossed 6.0 no-hit innings before Paul Blair singled to lead off the seventh. With the game tied, 1-1, in the ninth, Ed Charles, Jerry Grote and Al Weis strung together consecutive two-out singles to give New York a 2-1 lead. Koosman retired the first two batters in the ninth, before walking the next two. Ron Taylor got the final out of the game, retiring Brooks Robinson to even the series at one game apiece.

A raucous Shea crowd of 56,335, watched the Mets shutout Baltimore, 5-0 in Game Three. Tommie Agee hit a lead-off home run off Jim Palmer, the only leadoff home run the Hall of Famer would ever allow, to put the Mets on the board early. In the fourth, the Orioles threatened, with runners at the corners and two outs, Agee made a running, backhanding catch at the warning track in left-center to rob Elrod Hendricks. In the seventh, Baltimore loaded the bases with two outs, Blair laced a high drive to right-center, Agee running full tilt caught the ball sprawling on the warning track. Tommie had made two of the greatest World Series catches ever just three innings apart.

In Game Four, Seaver out-dued Cuellar in a thrilling 10-inning, 2-1 victory. Donn Clendenon belted a solo home run in the second to give the Mets a 1-0 lead, which would hold up until the ninth. The Orioles put runners at first and third with one out, Brooks Robinson laced a sinking line drive to right-center. Ron Swoboda made a full length, diving catch. The tying run scored, but the brilliant catch prevented further damage. In the bottom of the 10th, with runners at first and second and nobody out, J.C. Martin pinch-hit for Seaver. Martin dropped a bunt down and Orioles' pitcher Pete Richert fielded the ball, but his throw hit Martin and the ball caromed in rightfield allowing Rod Gaspar to score from second. The Mets were one win away from their first title, while Baltimore argued that Martin was outside the basepath.

The unthinkable occurred on October 16, 1969 at Shea, behind a 5-3 victory, New York's lovable losers were champions. The Orioles led 3-0 early, but home runs by Clendenon and Weis tied the game. In the eighth, Swoboda gave the Mets the lead with a RBI double. Koosman induced future Mets Manager Davey Johnson to fly out to Cleon Jones in leftfield for the final out. Jones (Sport Magazine) and Weis (BBWAA) were the Series MVP's.

New York captured their second pennant in five years with a thrilling five-game series win over Cincinnati.

In Game One, Pete Rose and Johnny Bench each belted home runs to upend Tom Seaver and the Mets, 2-1. Seaver allowed just six hits and fanned a NLCS record 13 batters in the losing effort.

Jon Matlack was brilliant, tossing a two-hit, 5-0 shutout in Game Two to even the series. Rusty Staub's solo home run in the fourth was the only run of the game until New York plated four runs in the ninth, two coming home on Jerry Grote's single.

The Mets scored all nine runs in the first four innings en route to a 9-2 victory at Shea in Game Three. Staub cracked a solo home run in the first and a three-run shot in the second. However, the game will always be remembered for the fight that broke out between Pete Rose and Buddy Harrelson after Rose slid hard into second base attempting to break up a double play. With the bench-clearing brawl behind them, Jerry Koosman continued to dominate the Reds.

Rose got his revenge with a 12th inning home run in Game Four to give the Reds a 2-1 victory and send the series to a fifth and deciding game.

Ed Kranepool gave New York a 2-0 lead in the first with a two-run single in Game Five in front of 50,323 fans at Shea. After Cincinnati tied the 2-2 in the top of the fifth, the Mets exploded for four runs in the bottom of that frame. Cleon Jones, Willie Mays, Don Hahn and Harrelson each collected a RBI. Seaver and Tug McGraw held the Reds at bay as New York advanced to face Oakland in the World Series.

New York lost its first ever post-season series, falling in seven game set to the Oakland Athletics.

In Game One, the A's nipped the Mets, 2-1, despite managing just four hits off Jon Matlack and Tug McGraw. Second baseman Felix Millan's error in the third inning proved costly as Oakland's only two runs of the game would score in that inning.

New York evened the series with a 10-7, 12-inning victory. Oakland scored two runs in the ninth to tie the game, 6-6, to force extra innings. Willie Mays singled home Bud Harrelson with the go-ahead run in the 12th, it would prove to be Mays's last hit in the majors.

The Series returned to Shea and Wayne Garrett cracked a solo home run as the Mets jumped on top 2-0 in the first inning of Game Three. Once again, Oakland rallied to tie the game in the eighth and scored in the 11th for a 3-2 victory.

The Mets tied the series at two games apiece with a 6-1 triumph in Game Four. Rusty Staub drove in five runs, with a three-run home run in the first and a two-run single in the fourth. Matlack allowed three hits in 8.0 innings to pick up the win.

New York took a 3-2 series lead with a 2-0 win at Shea in front of 54,817 fans in Game Five. Jerry Koosman and McGraw shutout the A's on three hits.

Needing just one win in Oakland to capture their second championship, the Mets lost Game Six, 3-1 and Game Seven, 5-2. In Game Six, Reggie Jackson had two RBI doubles off Tom Seaver.

Four Oakland runs in the third inning on home runs by Bert Campaneris and Jackson in Game Seven broke the game open. Garrett, the tying run in the ninth, popped out to end the series and New York's dream.

New York improved to 3-0 in the NLCS with a dramatic six game victory, avoiding Houston ace Mike Scott in Game Seven.

The Mets returned to the post-season after a 13-year absence and lost Game One, 1-0. Scott hurled a complete-game, five-hit shutout with 14 strikeouts. Glenn Davis swatted a home run in the second inning for the lone run of the game.

Bobby Ojeda matched Scott in Game Two, with a complete-game, 5-1, victory to tie the series. Gary Carter had a RBI double in the fourth and Keith Hernandez added a two-run triple in the fifth.

In Game Three, back at Shea, the Mets fell behind 4-0, but Darryl Strawberry's three-run home run in the sixth helped tie the game. Trailing 5-4, with one on and one out, Lenny Dykstra cracked a two-run home run into the Mets bullpen to give New York a 6-5 victory.

Scott again was brilliant in Game Four, tossing a complete-game, three-hitter as the Astros won 3-1.

Nolan Ryan and Dwight Gooden locked horns in a tremendous pitching duel in Game Five. Ryan allowed two hits (Strawberry home run) with 14 strikeouts in 9.0 innings, while Doc scattered nine hits in 10 innings. Carter's RBI single in the 12th gave New York the win and left them one win away from their third trip to the World Series.

Game Six at the AstroDome was simply a classic, the longest post-season game in time (4:42) and innings (16). Houston led 3-0 until the Mets tied it in the ninth on RBI's from Mookie Wilson, Hernandez and Ray Knight. With the Mets leading, 4-3, in the bottom of the 14th, Billy Hatcher hit a home run off the leftfield screen off Jesse Orosco. In the 16th, New York scored three times, Strawberry's double and Knight single put the Mets ahead. Houston rallied for two runs, but Orosco struck out Kevin Bass with the winning run on base, to become the first pitcher to earn three wins in one LCS.

Below: Ray Knight races home with the winning run in New York's dramatic 7-6, 10th inning comeback in Game Six of the 1986 World Series vs. Boston...Knight scored from second on the play after Mookie Wilson's slow roller got past Red Sox first baseman Bill Buckner.

1986 WORLD SERIES

BOSTON RED SOX VS. NEW YORK METS

For only the second time in World Series history, a team lost the first two games at home, but emerged as the world champion, as New York won its second title in amazing fashion against the Boston Red Sox.

In Game One, Bruce Hurst and Calvin Schiraldi combined to shutout the Mets, 1-0. Jim Rice scored lone run on an error by second baseman Tim Teufel.

Boston scored nine times on 18 hits in a 9-3 win in Game Two.

In Boston, Lenny Dykstra led off Game Three with a solo home run to ignite a four-run first inning. Bobby Ojeda stymied the Sox through seven innings as New York won, 7-1.

In Game Four, Gary Carter cracked two home runs and Ron Darling's seven shutout innings helped the Mets even the series with a 6-2 triumph.

In the pivotal fifth game, Hurst tossed a complete-game for the Red Sox as Boston won, 4-2.

The Mets returned to Shea for Game Six in a contest that would become part of World Series lore. New York, facing elimination, trailed, 2-0, in the bottom of the fifth, 3-2, entering the bottom of the eighth and, 5-3, going to the bottom of the tenth. Ray Knight's RBI single helped tie the contest in the fifth and Carter's sacrifice fly tied the game in the eighth. After Dave Henderson's home run had put the Sox ahead in the 10th, both Backman and Hernandez were retired. But Carter, Kevin Mitchell and Knight followed with singles to cut the deficit to 5-4. Boston reliever Bob Stanley was summoned and on a 2-2 count, Mookie Wilson fouled back two pitches before dodging a wild pitch that allowed Mitchell to score to tie the game. Wilson then hit a dribbler up the first base line that bounced under Bill Buckner's legs enabling Knight to score the winning run.

After a day of rain, the Mets won their second world championship with an 8-5 triumph. Boston built a 3-0 lead, but New York scored three runs in the sixth, two runs coming home on a single by Hernandez. Knight's seventh inning home run gave the Mets the lead for good. Santana and Hernandez would drive in runs later in the inning and Darryl Strawberry cracked a solo home run in the eighth. Orosco struck out Marty Barrett for the final out as Shea erupted in euphoria. Knight was named the Series MVP.

Despite beating the Dodgers in 10 of 11 match-ups during the regular season, Los Angeles knocked off New York in seven games. It was the first time in four NLCS appearances that the Mets failed to reach the World Series.

New York rallied for three runs in the ninth inning to take Game One, 3-2. Darryl Strawberry had a RBI double in the inning and two-out, two-run double by Gary Carter proved to be the difference.

The Dodgers scored five runs off David Cone in the first two innings of Game Two and went on to win, 6-3.

In a steady cold rain, the Mets won Game Three, 8-4. Trailing 4-3, the Mets scored five times in the bottom of the eighth. A two-out RBI double by Wally Backman tied the game and Mookie Wilson's RBI single gave the Mets the lead for good.

The turning point of the series occurred in the ninth inning of Game Four when Mike Scioscia's two-run home run off Dwight Gooden tied the game, 4-4. Kirk Gibson cracked a home run off Roger McDowell to win the game in the 12th as Los Angeles tied the series.

Gibson remained hot and belted a three-run home run in the fifth inning to lift the Dodgers to a 7-4 victory in Game Five.

On the brink of elimination, Kevin McReynolds went 4-4 with three RBI and Cone hurled a complete-game in a 5-1 win to force a seventh and deciding game.

Orel Hershiser tossed a complete-game, five-hit, 6-0 shutout to beat the Mets in Game Seven. Los Angeles scored five times in the second inning to break open the contest.

The Mets returned to the post-season for the first time since 1988, and defeated Arizona in the NLDS in four games.

John Olerud and Edgardo Alfonzo each touched up Randy Johnson for home runs as the Mets built a 4-1 lead in Game One. The Diamondbacks tied the contest in the sixth, but Alfonzo walloped his second home run of the night, a grand slam, in the ninth to lift New York to an 8-4 win.

Arizona captured Game Two, 7-1, behind Steve Finley's five RBI to even the series.

Back in New York and with Mike Piazza on the bench for Game Three with a bad thumb, the Mets scored six times in the sixth to beat the D-Backs, 9-2. Olerud and Darryl Hamilton each collected two RBI.

In the fourth game, in front of 56,177 fans at Shea, the Mets trailed, 3-2, but Roger Cedeno tied the game in the eighth with a sacrifice fly. In the 10th, back-up catcher Todd Pratt ended the series and sent the Mets to the NLCS with a solo walk-off home run off Matt Mantei that landed just out of the reach of Finley. Longtime Met John Franco earned his first post-season victory.

Atlanta outlasted New York in a dramatic six-game series.

Gerald Williams had a RBI single to break a 1-1 tie in the bottom of the fifth inning as the Braves went on to a 4-2 victory in Game One.

The Mets returned to Shea in a 0-2 hole after losing, 4-3, in Game Two. Brian Jordan and Eddie Perez each hit a two-run home run off Kenny Rogers in the sixth inning to erase a 2-0 Mets lead.

In Game Three, two Mets errors in the first inning allowed Atlanta to score the only run of the game in a 1-0 loss.

Trailing, 2-1, in the bottom of the eighth, four outs from having their season end, New York responded in Game Four. John Olerud, who had hit a solo home run in the sixth, singled to centerfield in the eighth which plated two runs to give the Mets a 3-2 victory.

Game Five was a classic. A 15-inning, five-hour and 46-minute marathon was played in driving rain. The Mets led 2-0 in the first inning on a two-run home run by Olerud, but the Braves tied the game in the fourth. Seven New York relievers combined to hold Atlanta scoreless entering the 15th. The Braves took a 3-2 lead in the 15th when Keith Lockhart's triple off Octavio Dotel scored Walt Weiss. Shawon Dunston singled to center after a 12-pitch at-bat to lead off the 15th for the Mets. Matt Franco walked and Alfonzo sacrificed the runners over. Olerud was walked intentionally to load the bases. Todd Pratt walked to force home Dunston with the tying run. Robin Ventura then cracked a "grand slam single" as the Shea crowd exploded. As Robin rounded first base his teammates mobbed him, never allowing him to finish his trot around the bases, and, thus officially settling for a single.

Trailing, 5-0, after the first inning the Mets battled back in Game Six. Darryl Hamilton would add a two-run single in the sixth and Mike Piazza crushed a two-run home run in the seventh inning to tie the game, 7-7. New York led, 8-7 in the eighth and 9-8 in the 10th, but could not hold on. Rogers walked Andruw Jones with the bases loaded in the 11th to end the series.

Through rain drops and a five and a half hour game, Robin Ventura sends home the drained crowd delirious with a "grand slam single" to beat the Braves, 4-3, in 15 innings in Game Five of the 1999 National League Championship Series... The bases loaded blast off Kevin McGlinchy ends the game, but Robin is mobbed by his teammates after rounding first base and is unable to trot around, settling instead for a "grand slam single."

For the first time in franchise history, the Mets qualified for the post-season in consecutive years. New York met the team that abandoned the city in 1958, the San Francisco Giants.

In Game One, the Giants scored four times in the third inning to break a 1-1 tie and won, 5-1.

Timo Perez, subbing for an injured Derek Bell, collected three hits and two RBI in Game Two. The Mets took a three-run lead into the ninth, but J.T. Snow hit a three-run home run to tie the contest. Jay Payton's RBI single in the 10th gave New York a 5-4 lead and John Franco struck out Barry Bonds to end the game.

Back at Shea for Game Three, the Mets trailed 2-1 until Edgardo Alfonzo's two-out, RBI double in the eighth. Benny Agbayani crushed a solo walk-off home run in the 13th to lift New York to a 3-2 triumph.

Bobby J. Jones hurled baseball's first post-season complete-game, one-hit shutout in 33 years as the Mets advanced to the NLCS with a 4-0 win in Game Four. Jeff Kent collected the only Giants' hit, a double in the fifth inning. Robin Ventura got the Mets on the board with a two-run home run in the first.

New York defeated their longtime nemesis, the St. Louis Cardinals, in five games to advance to its first World Series since 1986.

In Game One, Mike Piazza had a RBI single as the Mets jumped on top 2-0 in the first inning. Jay Payton and Todd Zeile cracked home runs in the top of the ninth to give New York some breathing room in a 6-2 victory.

In Game Two, the Mets never trailed, but let leads of 2-0, 3-1, and 5-3, vanish before Payton's ninth inning RBI single gave New York a 6-5 win.

The Cardinals ruined the Mets return to Shea scoring five runs in the first four innings en route to an 8-2 win in Game Three.

New York set a post-season record with five doubles in one inning (first) and they scored seven runs in the first two innings in a 10-6 victory. Robin Ventura had three RBI, while Piazza, Todd Zeile and Benny Agbayani each chipped in with two RBI.

Mike Hampton closed out the NLCS and picked up his second win of the series with a complete-game, three-hit, 7-0 shutout in Game Five. Edgardo Alfonzo singled home Timo Perez in the first inning to set a new club record with 16 career post-season RBI. Ventura and Payton would add RBI singles later in the inning. Zeile's bases-loaded, bases-clearing double in the fourth put the game away. Rick Wilkins flew out to Perez in centerfield for the final out.

Hampton was named the NLCS MVP for his efforts. Mike finished with 16.0 scoreless inning, surrendering nine hits with 12 strikeouts. Zeile finished the NLCS hitting .368 (7-19) with eight RBI and Perez tied an NLCS record by scoring eight runs.

The Fall Classic was billed as the City's first Subway Series since 1956, as the Mets met the New York Yankees.

In Game One, the Yankees jumped out to a 2-0 lead, but the Mets scored three times in the sixth on a two-run single by Bubba Trammell and a RBI single by Edgardo Alfonzo. The Yankees tied the game in the bottom of the ninth on a sacrifice fly by Chuck Knoblauch and won the game in the 12th on a two-out, bases loaded single by Jose Vizcaino.

Roger Clemens fired 8.0 shutout innings as the Mets fell, 6-5 in Game Two. The Mets scored five times in the ninth on a two-run home run by Piazza and a three-run shot by Jay Payton.

The World Series returned to Shea for the first time since 1986 and the Mets responded with a 4-2 victory in Game Three. Benny Agbayani laced a RBI double in the eighth to snap a 2-2 tie. John Franco earned the win after starter Rick Reed hurled 6.0 innings.

The Bronx Bombers scored single runs in the first three innings and hung on to beat the Mets, 3-2, in Game Four. Piazza's two-run home run put the Mets on the board in the third.

The Yankees topped the Mets, 4-2, in Game Five to win their third straight World Series. Al Leiter fired 8.2 brilliant innings, before Luis Sojo's, ninth inning, two-out, RBI single to centerfield broke a 2-2 tie. Derek Jeter was named the Series MVP.

This February the Mets renamed their spring training home in Port St. Lucie, FL, Tradition Field. The newly renovated stadium features a leftfield party terrace, a rightfield picnic berm, new premium box seats behind home plate, a modernized front stadium facade, expanded office, locker and weight room space, an elevator, a team store and new suite level.

Located just minutes from the new Tradition Field, the Town of Tradition is a master-planned community unlike any in Florida. Designed around the region's largest network of parks and open green space, Tradition is quickly earning a reputation as a premier residential and business destination on Florida's Treasure Coast.

A model of 21st Century community design, Tradition provides not only high-quality housing from the nation's leading builders, but also a regional employment center with the high-tech infrastructure necessary to attract Fortune 500 companies. Tradition is being designed from the ground up as Florida's first totally "connected" community, with the very latest in high-speed Internet access for all homes and a fiber-optic communications network linking homes, businesses and schools.

Located near the I-95 and Gatlin Boulevard/Tradition Parkway interchange (Exit 118) in St. Lucie County, Tradition is positioned in an attractive business and residential location, with close proximity to Florida Atlantic University and Indian River Community College in St. Lucie West.

Tradition is being developed by Core Communities, developers of the award-winning St. Lucie West community that has served as the Spring Training home of the New York Mets for more than 16 years. Once completed, Tradition will feature 16,000 residences spanning more than 6,000 acres linked by many acres of parks and open greenspace. Tradition's corporate employment center will stretch 4.5 miles along I-95 and offer more than four million square feet of commercial, industrial and research & development space.

For more information about Tradition, visit www.traditionfl.com or call Shawn Reilly, Vice President of Marketing, Core Communities at (772) 340-3500.

SHEA STADIUM SCOREBOARDS

In 2004, the New York Mets debuted a new LED (light emitting diode) scoreboard system, replacing the older light bulb system that had been in place since 1987. The new 34mm LED technology from Whiteway Sign Company of Chicago, IL provides increased brightness for daylight viewing and a 244% increase in resolution. The message center on the main scoreboard, and the left and right field auxiliary scoreboards, are now capable of displaying player photographs, animations, and other graphics in color. A pitch count tally, showing the total number of balls and strikes thrown by the current pitcher has also been added to the main scoreboard. One important feature that will not change is the board's ability to provide a constant display of all out-of-town game scores from both leagues. The main message board is 20 feet wide by 63 feet high, and contains 492,800 LEDs arranged into 98,560 pixels. The two auxiliary scoreboard displays measure 43 feet wide by 8 feet high, and each contain 122,880 LEDs arranged into 24,576 pixels.

The video board at Shea Stadium is a Mitsubishi Diamond Vision Mark III HC, utilizing RGB (red, green, blue) CRT (cathode ray tube) technology. Installed in 1992, the current display replaced the original Diamond Vision board that made its debut in 1982. The board is 35 feet 8 inches wide, by 26 feet 3 inches high. It contains 13,600 CRT elements, arranged into 54,000 pixels.

The scoreboard systems at Shea Stadium are operated by the Mets Video & Entertainment staff, led by Producer Vito Vitiello. Vito supervises a game day production staff of 18 people. The crew captured two 2000 I.D.E.A. Golden Matrix Awards for best overall video and best overall matrix scoreboard display.
